

Bankruptcy, Restructuring & Creditor's Rights

The Bankruptcy, Restructuring and Creditor's Rights group at Hall Estill has significant experience in all aspects of the Debtor/Creditor relationship, both inside and outside of bankruptcy. As one of the largest such groups in the State, we have the skills and resources to represent debtors, creditors and trustees in small and large Chapter 7, 11 and 13 bankruptcy cases, and in all types of bankruptcy-related litigation. We represent secured and unsecured lenders, creditors' committees, individual creditors and debtors in a myriad of insolvency matters, including out-of-court workouts, receiverships and business restructuring and reorganization. The Group also has extensive experience in representing purchasers of distressed assets from Chapter 11 cases, especially in the energy sector.

If Your Business is Experiencing Financial Distress, the Professionals at Hall Estill are Here to Help

To our valued clients and friends:

All of us at Hall Estill know that the ongoing pandemic is putting immense financial stress on both the economy as a whole and individual businesses. Shelter-in-place orders, mandated closings, and overall economic anxiety are all causing unprecedented effects; inevitably, all businesses will be affected in some way.

We can help you navigate these difficult times. If your business is experiencing financial distress, the professionals at Hall Estill are here to answer your questions and assist you in determining the best course of action to ease the impact this crisis will have on your business. Hall Estill lawyers can provide you with advice and counsel on the tools and options available to your business, including:

- Distressed business planning
- Out-of-court debt restructuring
- Judicially assisted restructuring outside of bankruptcy
- Assistance in both understanding and obtaining relief available to you under new legislation
- Referral to crisis management
- Tax planning and the operation of new tax legislation benefiting taxpayers
- Real Estate Restructuring
- Chapter 11 bankruptcy restructuring

Our team consists of a diverse group of uniquely versatile, vastly experienced attorneys, all of whom have assisted other distressed companies through difficult times with creative legal solutions to financial problems. We also have relationships with professional crisis managers, accountants, and other financial professionals to assist in non-legal matters.

If necessary, we can help you decide whether bankruptcy may make sense for you and your business and represent you through that process. The new small business reorganization provisions, which are still new and not widely known, may be especially useful to you right now.

While this crisis may seem overwhelming, there are tools that can help ease the financial impact and provide you peace of mind. The earlier these financial stresses can be addressed, the more likely that there will be successful outcome. The professionals at Hall Estill can help you determine which option is right for you and your business.

These are certainly trying times. Hall Estill is here to help you through them.

In the News

- OKC Attorney Tami Hines Gavel to Gavel: LLCs in Oklahoma
- If Your Business is Experiencing Financial Distress, the Professionals at Hall Estill are Here to Help
- Tulsa Bankruptcy Attorney Steve Soule on the Impact of Coronavirus and the Restaurant Industry

Events & Presentations

- OKC Attorney Tami Hines CLE Practical Bankruptcy Advice for the Mineral Lawyer April 12
- OKC Attorney Tami Hines to speak to Mineral Lawyers Society of Oklahoma City

Published Articles

- Tulsa Bankruptcy Attorney Steve Soule on the Impact of Coronavirus and the Restaurant Industry

Gavel to Gavel

- OKC Attorney Tami Hines Gavel to Gavel: LLCs in Oklahoma