Collin Walke leads Hall Estill's Cybersecurity & Data Privacy practice. Collin became CIPP-US and CIPM certified in 2021 and is a certified AI auditor. Prior to joining Hall Estill, Collin served six years in the Oklahoma House of Representatives, where he authored the country's first and only opt-in data privacy law. Collin's experience in privacy and cybersecurity matters range from policy and procedure advice to GDPR compliance, data breach remediation assistance, and representation of entities that have been sued as a result of data breaches.

Collin is also an experienced litigator, representing individuals and businesses in state and federal courts in commercial and healthcare matters. He has argued before the Oklahoma Supreme Court and successfully challenged several state laws on constitutional grounds. He also serves as a mediator.

Collin is also a frequent speaker and presenter for various CLEs and conferences regarding AI and has been interviewed for numerous podcasts on the topics of AI, data privacy, and cybersecurity. He is also member of the firm's Recruitment Committee.
