

Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR)

Hall Estill's Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) practice is comprised of attorneys from a variety of groups within the firm who both represent clients as advocates and serve as independent mediators and arbitrators. Our attorneys have represented clients in many dispute venues such as judicial adjudications and ADR, including mediation and arbitrations. Within these venues our attorneys act as advocates, mediators and arbitrators.

Hall Estill lawyers provide ADR, mediation and arbitration services in myriad disputes, including those dealing with bankruptcy, labor & employment, family law, oil & gas, international and commercial matters.
