

Asset Protection Planning

At Hall Estill, we understand that some clients may be at risk for a greater number of litigation claims than others. We also understand that sometimes a need exists to protect family members and estate planning. Through Hall Estill's Asset Protection Planning, we are able to assist in creating an Asset Protection program tailored to each client's specific needs within the legal limits. We provide guidance to individuals, families, professionals and owners of closely-held companies to help them legally guard against potential liabilities. The Asset Protection planning is usually part of an overall estate plan for the client. With this type of protection, it is important that our clients seek the protection as soon as possible and well in advance of any legal problems, if at all possible.
