

Fraternity & Sorority Law

Led by Art Hoge, with over 25 years of experience in assisting and representing national fraternities, national sororities, and house corporations, Hall Estill's Fraternity & Sorority Law practice is nationally recognized. Art's experience is complemented by Hall Estill attorneys who assist national fraternities and sororities in a variety of areas, including transactional matters, housing matters, contractual matters, threatened and asserted legal claims, trademark and copyright matters, employment law matters, and membership matters, among others.

Attorneys in this practice represent fraternities and sororities that are involved in personal injury litigation and disputes involving members' rights and privileges. In addition, our attorneys advise and assist these national organizations with housing and transactional matters. Further, Hall Estill serves as national counsel for myriad national organizations.

Representation in this area includes:

- Personal Injury Litigation Defense
- Fraternity and Sorority Corporate Matters
- Fraternity and Sorority Housing Matters
- National Housing Programs
- Membership Issues
- Property Rights and Real Estate Law
- Tax Opinion Letters for Corporations to Raise Funds
- Employment Law
- Nonprofit Corporations and Foundations
- Cybersecurity and Data Privacy
- Intellectual Property

Further, Hall Estill offers complete legal services for Greek letter housing, contracts, and corporate internal structures for fraternity and sorority corporate organizations.
