

Homeowner / Condominium Associations

Our attorneys serve homeowners, board members and Homeowner/Condominium Associations when conflicts arise between homeowners and those associations. The guidance we provide regarding the rules governing homeowners and homeowners association law is invaluable.

In joining a Homeowners Association, members are responsible to abide by its rules and guidelines. However, neighborhood disputes are at times inevitable, including:

- Use of Common Areas
- Architectural Decisions
- Landscaping
- Property Additions
- Home Colors
- Property Liens due to Past Due Payments

In addition, our attorneys have the experience in representing Homeowners Associations and board members in court should mediation not successful.