

Public Utility Law

Our Utilities attorneys assist clients in myriad matters, including litigation, arbitration and administrative proceedings which apply to the electric, natural gas, water and telecommunications industries. We understand the risks and demands faced by utility management and have the experience necessary to respond to any issue. Representative clients include public utility companies, generators of electricity, energy marketers, telephone companies and governmental entities.