Two state legislators are running a bill that purports to protect free speech on college campuses.

Sen. Julie Daniels, R-Bartlesville, and Rep. Mark Lepak, R-Claremore, have coauthored Senate Bill 361, which protects "any lawful verbal, written, audio-visual or electronic means by which individuals may communicate ideas to one another."

Bob Nelon, a Hall Estill attorney specializing in First Amendment law, said he would oppose the bill if he were a legislator READ MORE HERE
