Hall Estill Elects Three New Shareholders

January 6, 2025

Hall Estill, Oklahoma's leading law firm, is pleased to announce the election of three attorneys as shareholders, reinforcing the firm's commitment to excellence and growth. With offices in Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Denver and Northwest Arkansas, Hall Estill continues its legacy of legal expertise and client-focused service.

"Our firm is pleased to welcome our newest shareholders, each bringing unique skills and experiences to their respective practice areas," said Steve Ray, Managing Partner at Hall Estill. "We are confident that their contributions will serve our clients well."

New Shareholders:

Daniel G. Couch, litigation and business attorney, assists businesses and families with a variety of legal needs, including litigation, construction, real estate, business services, probate and trusts, as well as homeowners' association matters. He works out of both the Denver and Oklahoma City offices.

Dr. J. Kirk McGill, based in the Denver office, but practicing throughout the country, assists clients routinely with Federal and State appeals, litigation, constitutional law and civil rights defense, tax, estates and trusts, business law, administrative law & regulatory compliance, contracts, commercial transactions and cybersecurity.

Aaron C. Tifft, based in the Tulsa office, is a litigation attorney who assists clients in a variety of areas including, real estate, oil & gas, eminent domain, and landlord/tenant disputes. His practice also includes representing clients in numerous aspects of Federal and State marketing regulations including defending claims brought under telephone consumer protection laws.
