If you hunt deer or elk in America today, it's time to confront Chronic Wasting Disease. Though many of us in unaffected states have enjoyed the luxury of ignorant bliss, the rapid spread of CWD and new state regulations to match that spread, make it impossible to bury your head in the proverbial sand any longer. Even if you're still fortunate enough to live in a "CWD free" state, odds are that new CWD regulations being passed across the country will have an effect on the way you hunt. READ MORE HERE
