

Milton and Kelley - Right to Trial and Summary Judgment in Probate Proceedings

Att. Courtney L. Kelley and James C. Milton

Oklahoma Bar Journal
Courtney L. Kelley

<https://www.okbar.org/barjournal/sept2017/obj8824miltonkelley>

Practices and Courtney Kelley co-authored an article for the Oklahoma Bar Journal and it appears in this month's Estate Planning & Probate Death Administration

In the October 2013 issue of this journal, James C. Milton and Travis G. Cushman wrote that, "without much fanfare," in Shamblin v. Beasley,¹ the Oklahoma Supreme Court "identified a state constitutional right to trial in equitable actions."² This was an important pronouncement for attorneys handling matters in probate and other equitable proceedings.

The article, "The Right to Trial and Summary Judgment in Probate Proceedings" can be accessed HERE.

