For several years, Hall Estill attorney Betsy Jackson has served as a Commissioner on the Mayor's Commission on the Status of Women for the City of Tulsa. This year she serves as Legislative Chair for the organization. Yesterday the Commission released a report on female incarceration. As Legislative Chair, Betsy served as the spokesperson for the organization and made the presentation on behalf of the Commission. She was interviewed for local television and radio stations regarding the report and quoted in this Tulsa World Article
