HALL ESTILL
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Trading/Derivatives Contracts

The Hall Estill attorneys negotiate and draft derivatives documentation for various transactions, Specifically, our oil and gas attorneys work with clients on energy-related issues and project financing. Covering the full scope of energy-related derivatives, including power, oil and natural gas trading for utilities, merchant generation and power marketers.

In addition, we represent governmental agencies and municipalities with respect to commodity swap options, as well as agreements to manage the price risk of natural gas and other inputs or outputs. Finally, we are able to structure trading facilities using physical assets and liquid collateral.